

It's just impossible!

...or is it?

What if you were stranded on an island?

- What would you need?
- Discuss

These people had to

The rule of 3s

- Three
 - Minutes without air
 - Days without water
 - Weeks without food

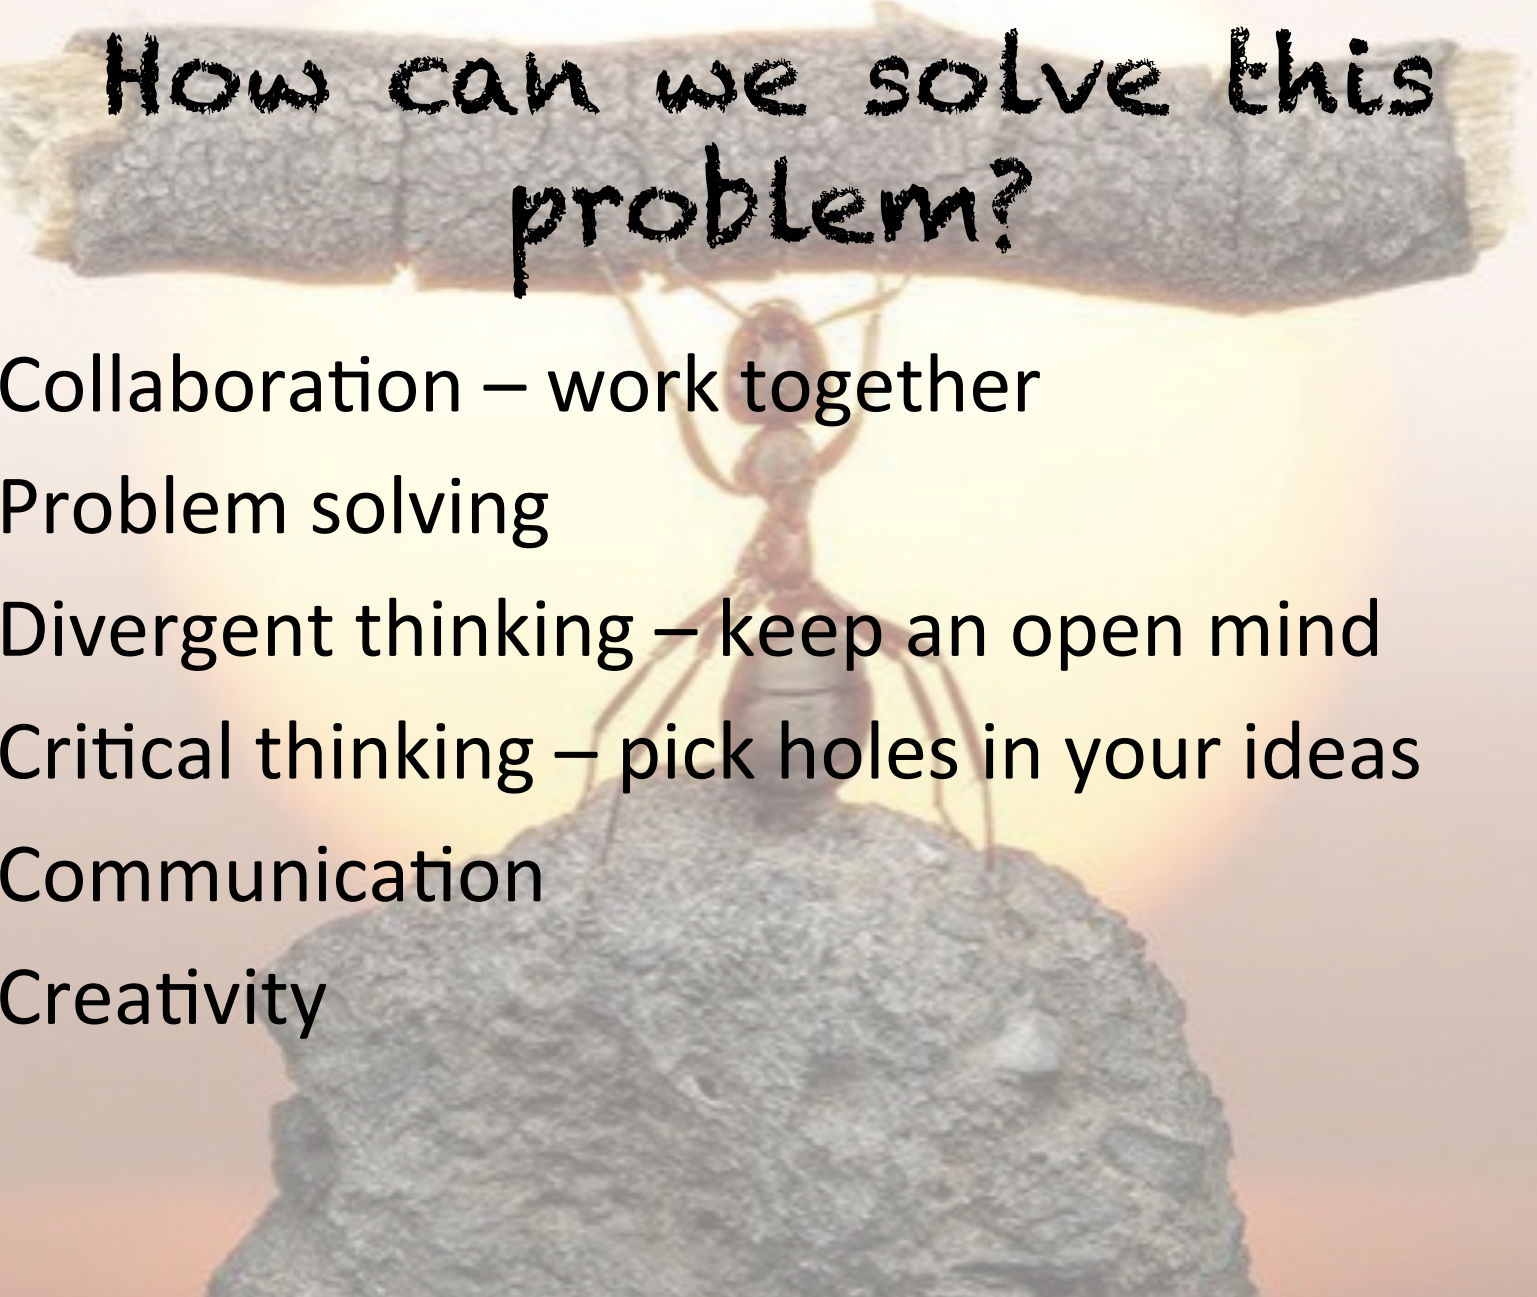

How easy is it to obtain the three things you need?

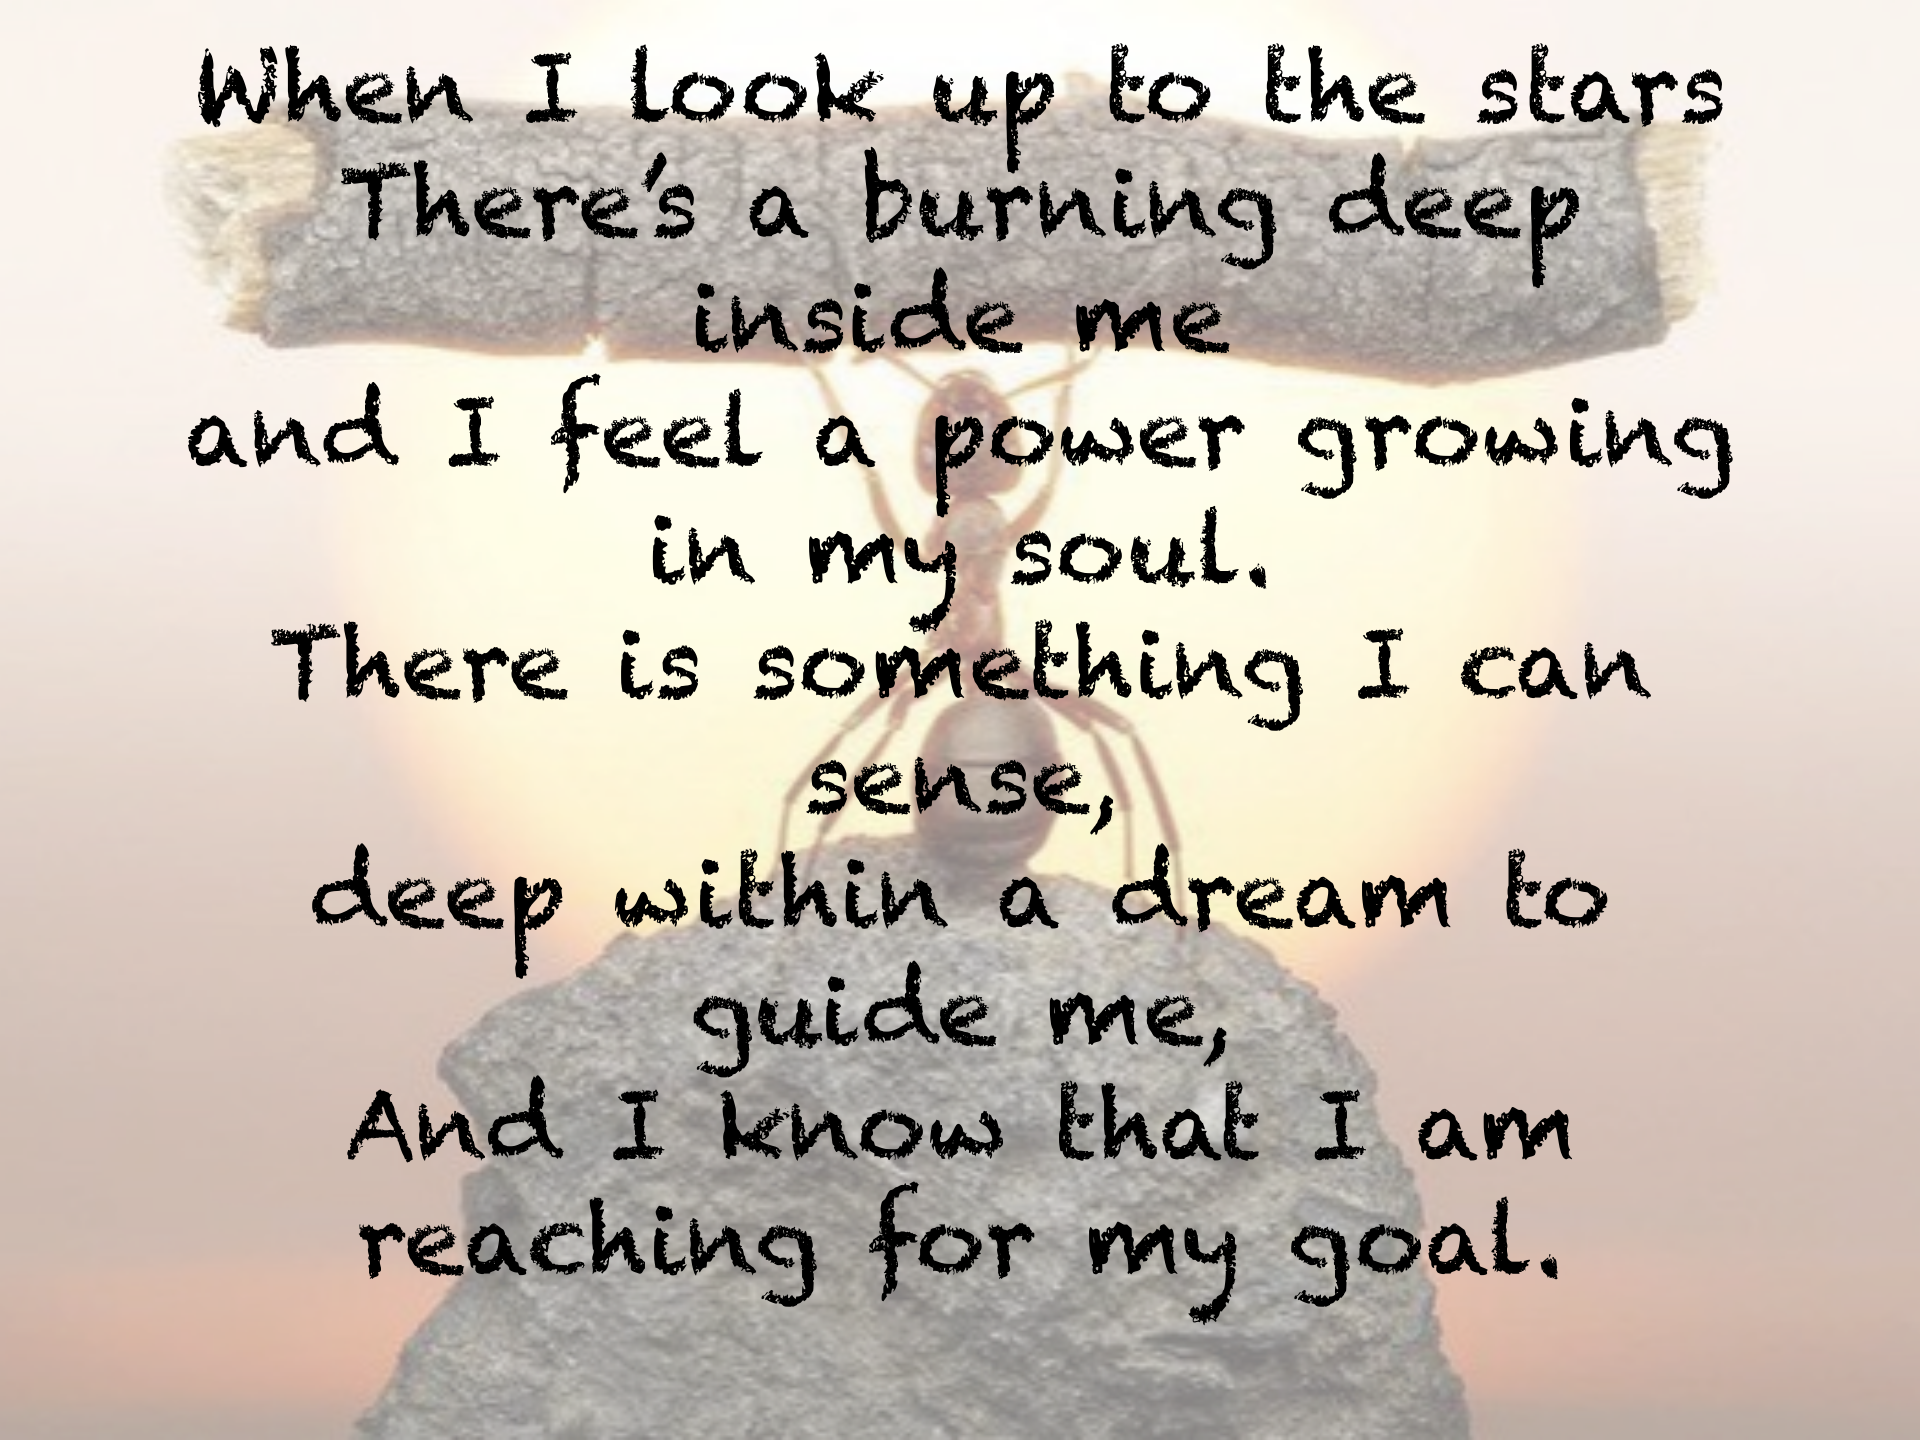

- Air?
- Water?
- Food?

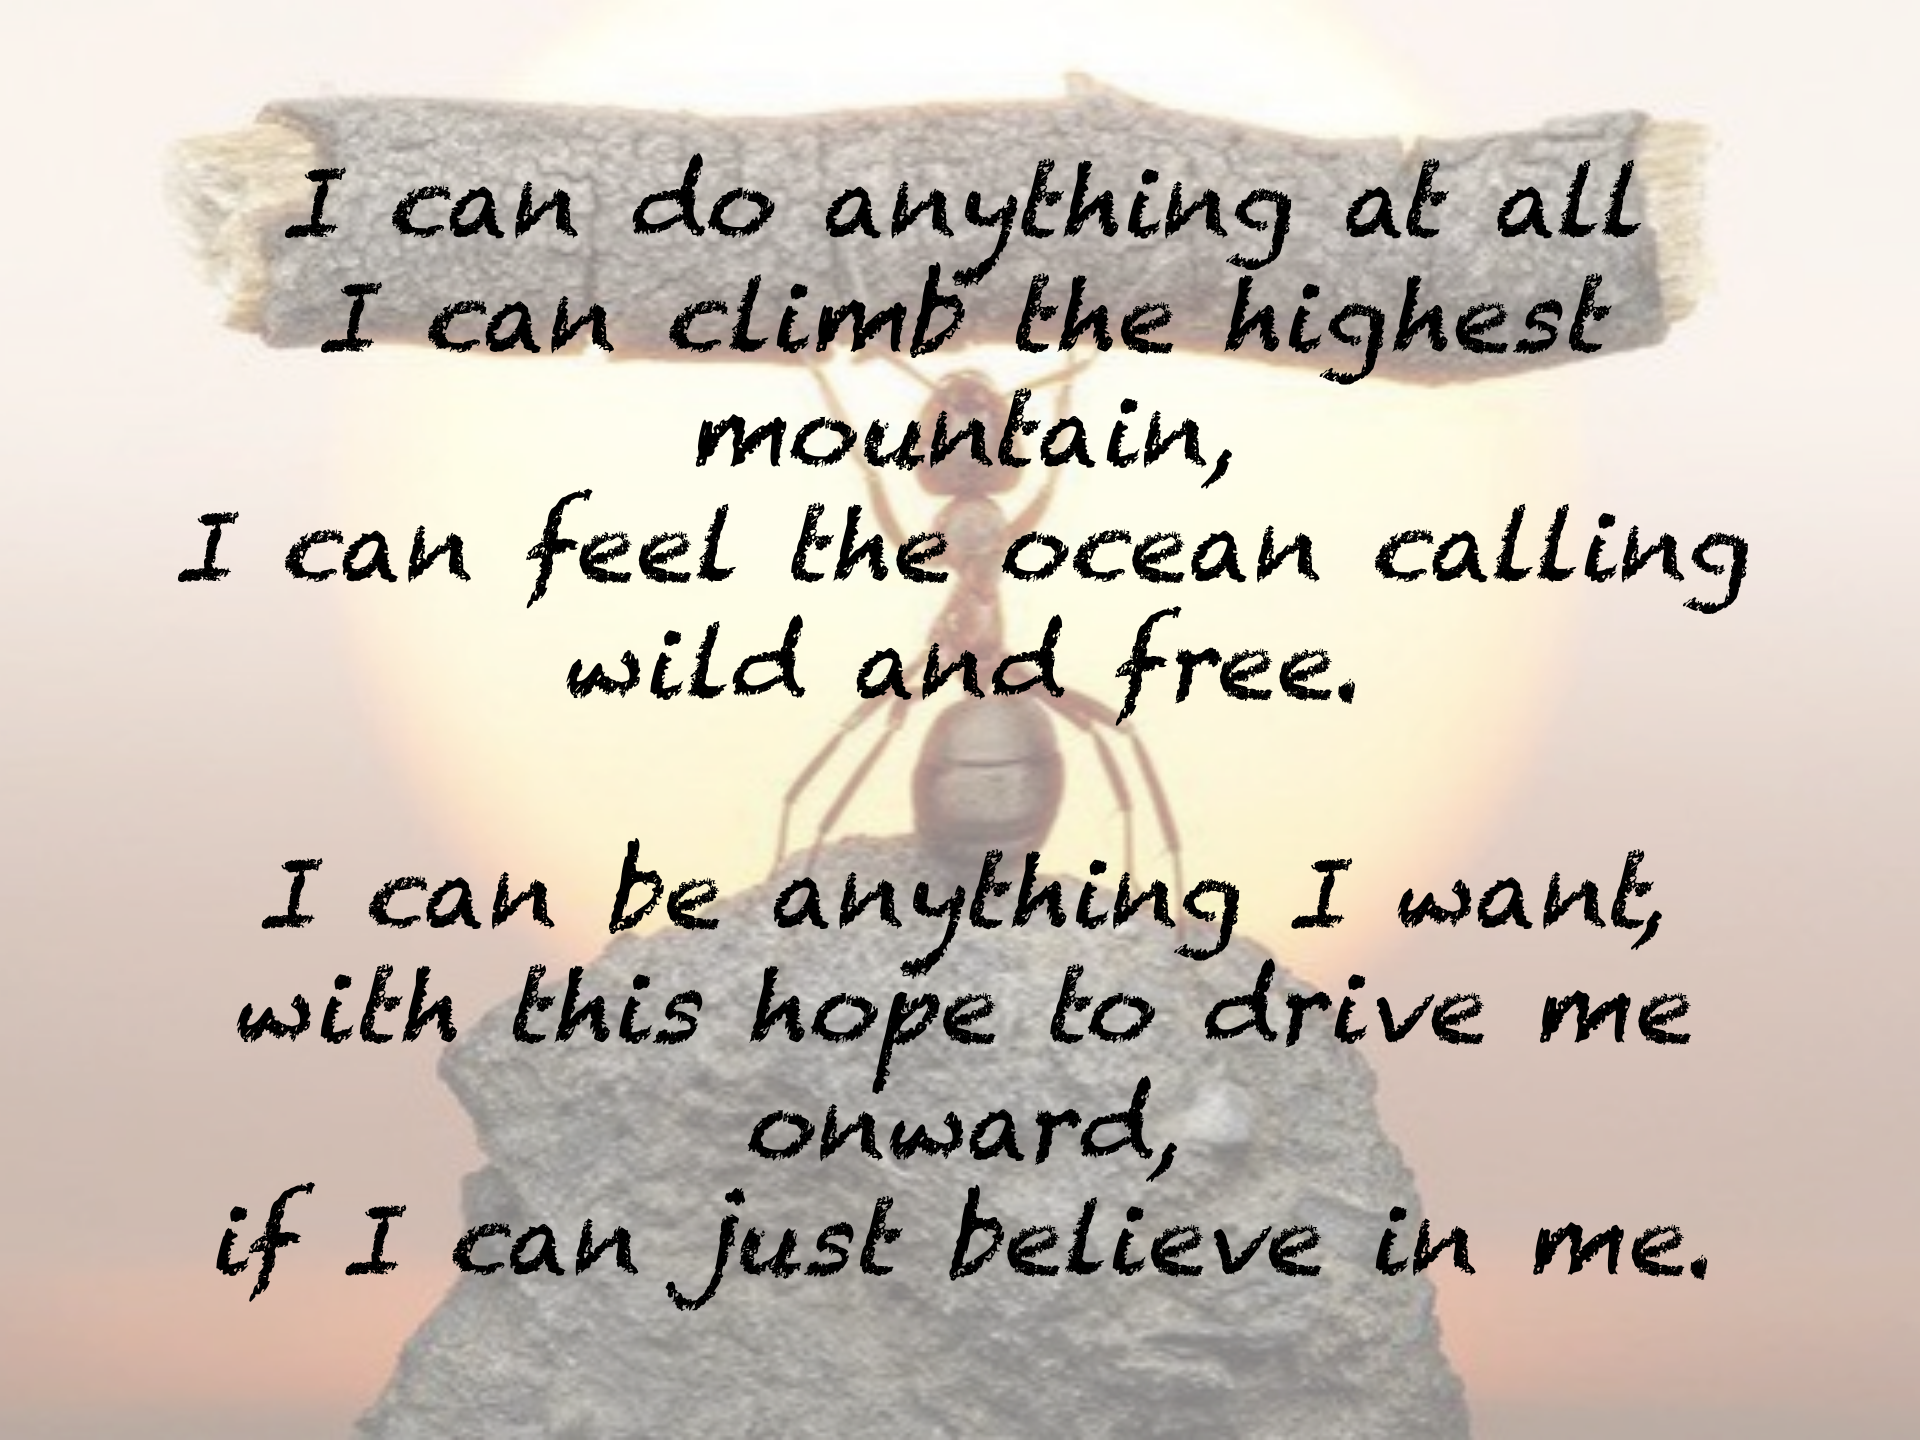

How can we solve this problem?

A close-up photograph of a reddish-brown ant carrying a small, rectangular piece of light-colored wood or bark in its mandibles. The ant is positioned in the center of the frame, walking upwards. The background is a soft, out-of-focus gradient of warm colors, from light yellow at the top to a pale pinkish-orange at the bottom. The overall image serves as a metaphor for problem-solving and teamwork.

- Collaboration – work together
- Problem solving
- Divergent thinking – keep an open mind
- Critical thinking – pick holes in your ideas
- Communication
- Creativity

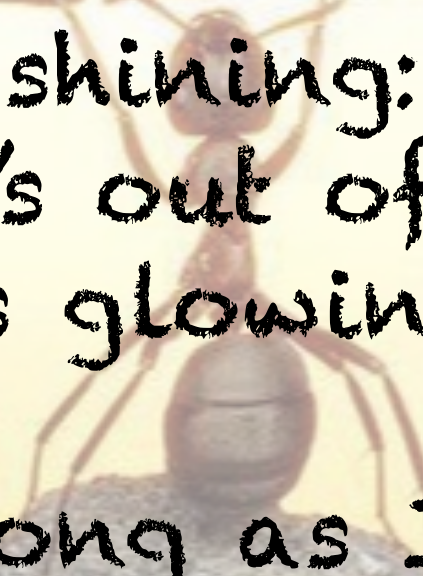

When I look up to the stars
There's a burning deep inside me
and I feel a power growing in my soul.
There is something I can
sense,
deep within a dream to guide me,
And I know that I am
reaching for my goal.

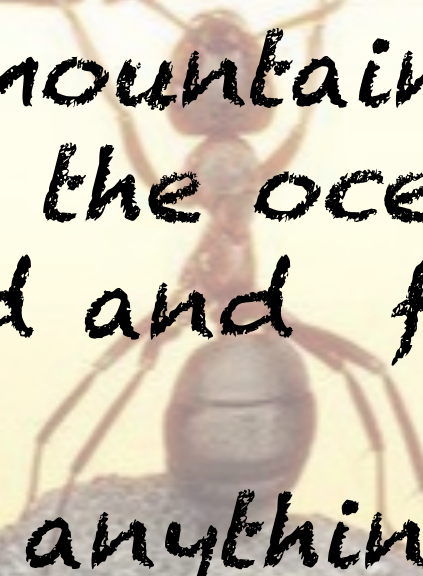

I can do anything at all
I can climb the highest
mountain,
I can feel the ocean calling
wild and free.

I can be anything I want,
with this hope to drive me
onward,
if I can just believe in me.

When the skies are dark and grey,
We still know the sun is shining:
though it's out of sight, its light is glowing still.

And as long as I believe, there is nothing I can't wish for;
not a dream that I'm unable to fulfill

I can do anything at all
I can climb the highest
mountain,
I can feel the ocean calling
wild and free.

I can be anything I want,
with this hope to drive me
onward,
if I can just believe in me

A red ant is positioned in the center of the image, standing on a piece of torn, light-colored paper. The background is a soft, warm gradient of orange and yellow, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The ant's legs are spread out, and its body is clearly visible. The text is written in a black, hand-drawn style, centered over the ant and the paper.

And whatever it takes I'll find it some-how whatever it needs I'll show
I'm strong Whatever it takes I'll make it happen
finding out where I belong.

While the world is spinning round I can sometimes lose direction

and I know how hard it is to find my way.

but with friends around to care, there is nothing I can't handle.

and I'll face the future
treasuring each day.

A large, reddish-brown ant is walking towards the viewer on a light-colored, textured surface. The ant's legs are spread out, and its antennae are visible. Overlaid on the image are two pieces of torn, light-brown paper. The first piece is at the top, containing the first two lines of text. The second piece is at the bottom, containing the second two lines of text. The background is a soft, out-of-focus orange and yellow gradient.

I can do anything at all
I can climb the highest
mountain,
I can feel the ocean calling
wild and free.

I can be anything I want,
with this hope to drive me
onward,
if I can just believe in me.

the
impossible

is

possible

if you want it to be